Baxley Student Takes Ms. ABAC Crown

Laurel Higginbotham, a pre-dentistry major from Baxley, captured the Ms. ABAC 2011 title at the 42nd annual event on Wednesday at ABAC.

Sponsored by the men's golf team at ABAC, Higginbotham is a sophomore who is the parliamentarian of the ABAC Ambassadors, a Buddy Ball volunteer, a 4-H Rock Eagle summer counselor, and participates in the Big Brothers, Big Sisters program.

"This means so much to me," Higginbotham, who hopes to be an orthodontist, said. "I love ABAC. I knew when I came here that I would get the support from the professors that I might not get at a larger college. I want to be a great representative for ABAC."

Other finalists were Mary Porter, an animal science major from Jesup, first runner-up; Keaton Griner, an agricultural communications major from Moultrie, second runner-up; Brittany Trotter, a consumer journalism major from Clarkesville, third runner-up; and Brooke Justice, a business major from Tifton, fourth runner-up.

Laurel Higginbotham (center) of Baxley was crowned Ms. ABAC 2011 on Feb. 23. Other contestants who placed in the pageant included (l-r): Brittany Trotter, third runner-up; Mary Porter, first runner-up; Keaton Griner, second runner-up; and Brooke Justice, fourth runner-up.

Higginbotham also won the interview portion of the competition. Jazmin Thomas, an agricultural communications major from Perry, won the essay competition, and Mollie Roberts, a communications major from Ocilla, was named Miss Congeniality by the other contestants.

The People's Choice winner was Ana Ingram, a mass communication and journalism major from Blakely. Funds raised by the People's Choice award were donated to the American Cancer Society Relay for Life and the Ms. ABAC Scholarship fund.

A total of 28 contestants competed in the event, which was sponsored by the Agricultural Business Club at ABAC.

Baldwin Players Perform Thursday Thru Saturday
