The School of Nursing and Health Sciences utilizes the HESI Admission Assessment (A2) as a tool to assess the readiness of prospective nursing students for both the Generic and One Year Registered Nurse program tracks.

Assessment Contents

The HESI Admission Assessment (A2) consists of five computerized content exams including: Math, Reading Comprehension, Vocabulary and General Knowledge, Anatomy and Physiology, and Critical Thinking.

1. Math: 50-item exam. Focuses on math skills needed for health care fields including basic addition, subtraction, multiplication, fractions, decimals, ratio and proportion, household measures, and general math facts. Score of 75% required.
2. Reading Comprehension: 47-item exam. Focuses on reading scenarios that are health related in order to measure reading comprehension. Students will identify the main idea, find meaning of words in context, passage comprehension, and make logical inferences. Score of 75% required.
3. Vocabulary: 50-item exam. Contains basic vocabulary that is often used in health care fields. Score of 75% required.
4. Anatomy and Physiology: 25-item exam. Provides coverage of general terminology and anatomical structures and systems. Score of 75% required.
5. Critical Thinking: 30-item exam. Assesses critical thinking ability. All answers are correct on this multiple-choice exam; however, each choice reflects a different degree of critical thinking skill. The higher the score, the better the student’s ability to think critically within the disciple of nursing. This exam does not require a minimum score and does not affect admission status.

Scoring and Admission Guidelines

Students will receive a score for each content exam as well as a cumulative score. Students must score a minimum 75% on the math, reading comprehension, vocabulary and general knowledge, and anatomy and physiology content exams. Each exam requires a grade of 75% or better. The cumulative score (average of content area exams) received and the student’s nursing grade point average will be utilized to determine admission into the ABAC nursing program. The cumulative score and the nursing grade point average will count 50% each and determine an admission score by which students will be ranked.

The HESI Admission Assessment (A2) can be taken a maximum of two times within one year. The scores are only valid for one year. The cumulative score will be utilized along with the student’s nursing GPA to determine admission status. A student scoring below the 75% minimum on a content exam(s) will be required to re-take all content exams. A student failing to meet the 75% minimum content exam score after two attempts will not be eligible to retake the exam until the failure(s) are older than ONE year. Scores from other testing sites are not accepted.
