Dairy Programs Intern

ABS Global, Inc., a global producer and marketer of bovine genetics and related products, is currently seeking a dairy programs intern. The dairy programs department works with dairy producers and professionals in over 80 different countries to generate performance and genetic reports to help dairy producers make essential management decisions.

The dairy programs intern will be based out of the DeForest, Wis. office and will work closely with the dairy programs department to assist in creatively designing and developing training and marketing materials for ABS customers and field representatives. This role will also support the dairy programs team in producing and distributing performance and genetic reports to our global customers.

The successful candidate must be pursuing a bachelor’s degree in animal science, dairy science, agricultural business, or related field as well as demonstrate commitment to the dairy industry through strong involvement in dairy-related organizations. Candidates must be team-oriented with excellent verbal and written communications skills, have strong attention to detail, good organizational and problem solving skills. Proficiency with Microsoft Office programs and the internet is required.

A summer internship with ABS provides college students the experience necessary to launch a successful career in agriculture. If interested in becoming a part of the ABS Global team, please forward a resume and cover letter to:
