The Second Annual A-Maze-ing Zombie Run will take place at the Georgia Museum of Agriculture on Oct. 26 at 9:30 a.m. The run is a one mile fun run and walk through the Historic Village of the GMA.

A-Maze-ing Zombie Run October 26 at the Georgia Museum of Agriculture

TIFTON – Guys, girls, and ghouls of every age can come out to the Georgia Museum of Agriculture at Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College on Oct. 26 at 9:30 a.m. for the second annual A-Maze-ing Zombie Run.
The race includes a one-mile fun run and walk through a portion of the GMA’s Historic Village, including the Corn Maze, as zombies jump out and chase runners along the course. The race starts at the Country Store parking lot and ends at the Opry Shelter. The Museum’s 1917 steam locomotive will return runners to the Country Store parking lot.

All participants competing in the run will receive an event t-shirt contingent upon the date of registration. Trophies will be awarded to the overall female and male finishers and the first five youth finishers. Special zombie awards, such as best scream, will also be given out.

To register for the A-Maze-ing Zombie Run, there is an entry fee of $15 each for adults and children before Oct. 26 and $20 at the gate on the day of the event. Registration on the day of the race opens at 8:30 a.m. with a race start time of 9:30 a.m. All children must be accompanied by an adult. Children who are easily frightened should be encouraged not to participate. Entry forms are available online at www.abac.edu/museum/events.

For more information on the A-Maze-ing Zombie Run, interested persons can contact Tonia Carpenter by e-mail at tcarpenter@abac.edu.

###