Associate of Applied Science degree with a major in Diversified Agriculture

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will demonstrate an understanding of production agriculture for both animal and plant production.
2. Students will demonstrate an awareness of equipment and technology available for continual advancement of skills and production principles in the agribusiness industry.
3. Students will demonstrate technical skills necessary for profitable agricultural endeavors.