Bachelor of Applied Science degree with a major in Natural Resource Management

Program and Student Learning Outcomes

1. The program will achieve and maintain acceptable levels of annual enrollment and degree completions and contribute to the college’s growth in total enrollment and degrees conferred.
2. The program will achieve and maintain sustainable level of job placement rates.
3. Students will have a working knowledge of the biological principles of forest resource management.
4. Students will demonstrate requisite spatial and computational skills for characterizing the forest resource.
5. Students will demonstrate an understanding of business applications and management skills related to the timber industry.
6. Students will have a well-rounded knowledge of wildlife management principles and practices based on the natural history and ecology of North American wildlife species.
7. Students will have well-developed oral and written communication skills enabling them to effectively disseminate information within their profession and to the general public.